If there should be a serious drop in farm market prices or a crop failure due to weather conditions or some other act of God, such as would be evidenced by a yield of less than 50 bushels of corn per acre the Buyers are relieved of paying the principal next coming due, but must pay the annual interest when due. Buyers may exercise this privilege not more than twice during the term of this contract. This provision does not constitute a waiver of the required principal payment but operates only to postpone payment thereof until the entire balance is due and payable Sellers remedy shall not extend beyond the real estate in this contract.
